PREFACE.

THE issue of the Second Volume of the Society's Collections has been unavoidably delayed.

The progress of the Association continues to be very satisfactory both as to Membership and Materials for Publication.

The series of Plates by Mr. Small, representing the Wood Carving in the Parish Church of Kilbirnie, has been presented by the Earl of Glasgow.

The Association is indebted to Sir Herbert Maxwell of Monreith, Bart., M.P., for the Plate of the Arms of the Marquess of Bute; to the National Society of Antiquaries of Scotland for the loan of several of the woodcuts illustrative of the papers by the Rev. G. Wilson; to J. Shedden Dobie, Esq., of Grangvale, F.S.A. Scot., for the use of the copperplate of Kilbirnie Church; and to T. Macknight Crawford, Esq., of Cartsburn, for that of the woodcut of the Tomb of Captain Craufurd of Jordanhill, in the Churchyard of Kilbirnie, prepared for Mr. Dobie's edition of Pont's Survey of Cuninghame. The thanks of all interested in archæological research are very specially due to the late Duke of Portland, the Messrs. Turner, his Grace's Factors, for the permission and facilities given for exploring the Crannog at Lochlee, and to Dr. Munro and the other gentlemen who assisted him, for the very careful report of the excavations.

A liberal donation of £50, made by a lady interested in archæological science, materially aided in illustrating the relics in a manner worthy of their value.

The very important and complete series of Charters of the Friars Preachers of Ayr will be printed in a separate volume, and issued towards the close of the year. The Records of the Burghs are being transcribed, and selections will be printed in the next volume.
