PREFACE.

To the liberality of the Marquess of Bute in contributing towards the expense of transcribing, printing, and illustrating the present Volume, and to the care taken by the Municipality of Ayr in preserving the ancient records and documents in their custody, the Members of the Ayr and Wigton Archæological Society are indebted for this Cartulary of the Friars Preachers of Ayr. The collection was too large to print in the ordinary Volumes of the Society, and too complete to break up into separate parts; and it was therefore determined to make it an extra issue.

The documents contained in it will be found of great general and local interest, and form an important contribution to the history of the Order in Scotland. The only other printed Cartulary of the Friars Preachers (those of Glasgow) was published in the Maitland Club Series in 1846. The muniments now given throw a great deal of light on the early history and topography of Ayr; and, taken in connection with the records of the Burgh about to be printed by the Society, will afford authentic materials for the local history of the district.

In dating some of the charters the ordinary practice of dealing with the regnal years of David II. has been followed. It is necessary to state, however, that this point is involved in very great obscurity and doubt, and it is to be hoped that some further light will be thrown upon it by future investigations.

I have great pleasure in acknowledging the valuable assistance I have received from many kind friends in going over the charters. In particular, I have been very much indebted, as on many former occasions, to Mr. Thomas Dickson, Curator of the Historical Department of the General Register House, Edinburgh; to the Town-Clerk of Ayr and his Assistants; and to Mr. Murray Lyon of Edinburgh.

R. W. COCHRAN-PATRICK.
